MEMBER NEWS – Ann Glover fell and broke her hip. Hopefully, recovery is going well. Clare Charzewski received a new kidney from her daughter in July. What a beautiful gift – both are doing very well. Becky Elderkin fell up in the mountains and broke her knee cap. Marla Brodsky tried to push her surgery date ahead for a hip replacement. She fell in the elevator at home and had surgery next day – but could not have the replacement – instead had a steel rod put in. She is temporarily at Sharon Towers.

LIBRARY BOOKS – The Charlotte Bridge Club placed the following book in its library: Bridge Smarts – Augie Boehm in memory of Frank Mueller.

Ted Jarrell placed a book in the library for Laverne Gallant – Mike Lawrence – Tips on Bidding and Bridge for Everyone – D W Crisfield in memory of Frank Mueller.

REMEMBERANCE - The Charlotte Bridge Club recently received a bequest from a long-time ago Bridge Club member – Frank Mueller. Frank played many years ago (in our old building). For those who remember him – he was always nice, friendly, fun and a good player. We have missed him for many past years. From his generosity, we have purchased the new bidding boxes that you are now using.

Thank you to so many of our club members. I was overwhelmed with greeting cards – calls, food, and beautiful flowers/plants. It meant a lot to me and helped dealing with the pain and boredom. (Janet)
